Anxiety Felt Over Purge

KUALA LUMPUR, Sun. — Great anxiety is being felt by several Malay families in Kajang and Kuala Lumpur over the recent purge of the 1,500 inhabitants of Jendaram.

These families felt that their people were visiting relatives and friends in Jenderam when they were caught in the raid that morning.

Meanwhile, it is learnt that about 30 to 40 of the villagers who were away that night escaped detention.

A lady teacher in a Malay school who was released decided to go with her aged parents and two children to the detention camp in Johore.
